THE SUIT SALE YOU'VE BEEN WAITING FOR

Most amazing values ever offered in this city. 135 Women's Suits grouped for quick selling, and priced for Friday and Saturday; values up to $32.50 ..... $10.95

Beyond question this is a sale economical women have been waiting for, and its announcement will be eagerly noted in every home in Ogden and its surroundings, where there is a woman yet unsupplied with a new Fall Suit.

It's the one opportunity of the season where women of dressy tastes may choose suits from big, generous stocks right in the heart of the season at prices that are as low as they can be even after the season is over.

This chance did not just happen, for values like these cannot be manufactured over night or picked up out of stock. It's the result of the careful thought and painstaking preparations. For weeks our New York buyer has been operating in the market, assembling this great collection from the best offerings of New York's foremost makers.

$10.95 A WORD ABOUT THE VALUES $10.95

If we stated that the $10.95 suits were worth from $20.00 to $32.50 it would not be stretching it a point. A visit to our store will prove to you that, when the National advertises, it advertises only the truth.

CHILDREN THE CAUSE OF PROCEEDINGS FOR DIVORCE

In the divorce case of Susie B. Watson against Claud B. Watson, the default of the defendant has been entered in the district court.

A decree of divorce has been issued in favor of the plaintiff in the case of Charlotte E. Van Alder against William Van Alder. By the terms of the decree, the plaintiff's maiden name, Charlotte Cunningham, is restored.

After hearing the testimony of Mr. and Mrs. John L. Fenstermaker in a divorce case this morning Judge Harris granted a divorce to the defendant on the grounds of desertion. The suit was instituted by the husband, claiming that Mrs. Fenstermaker deserted the home. Mrs. Fenstermaker filed a counter-claim alleging that it was Mr. Fenstermaker who deserted. The testimony was to the effect that trouble arose between the two respecting Mrs. Fenstermaker's children by a former husband and that in the middle of the night he left the place where they were living and went to his own home, which he had maintained prior to his marriage. It was testified, however, that the plaintiff had requested Mrs. Fenstermaker to come to his home and live but that she had refused to do so. Mr. Fenstermaker desired her to leave her children.

REAL NOVELTIES IN VAUDEVILLE SHOW

Opening with a matinee this afternoon and running three days, the new Pantages vaudeville bill opens for the week at the Orpheum theatre. An excellent, entertaining bill is promised by the press agent and from the looks of the bill a real novelty show is in store for Orpheum patrons. The press agent says:

"A Bit of Old Ireland," a little musical playlet, is given by Charles Reilly and his company of five at the Pantages. It offers Irish songs that touch the spot. Reilly, with his sweet tenor voice, has been termed the "Chauncey Olcott of the west." He will sing a number of the old ballads and some new ones.

The Connolly sisters are as pretty as they are clever. Their songs, sayings and dances are all enjoyable. Their gowns of the new royal purple add beauty and chic to the occasion.

Allen and Lewis, "Dispensers of Mirth," capture the laughing honors with their singing, dancing and talking act.

Hathaway and Mack, charming singers and dancers, make three complete changes, and respond to encore after encore.

Ralph Cummings and company, presenting "The Drummer and the Girl," "Vendy's" magician, and the Gaumont weekly close an excellent show.—Advertisement.

CHIEF OF POLICE HARBERTSON TO MEET JORDAN ON NIGHT OF NOV. 19

Arrangements were completed this morning for a finish bout between Jack Harbertson, the local wrestler, and Chris Jordan, the Greek. The match will take place on the night of Wednesday, November 19, this date being made possible by the receipt of a telegram from Manager Joseph Goss this morning which changed the booking of the previously arranged attraction, to begin on Sunday night and close on Tuesday night.

The men will meet as catchweights, for two out of three falls. Harbertson's forfeit has been posted several weeks and Jordan's forfeit is expected to be received by Mr. Goss today.

Harbertson is in the pink of condition and is elated at the opportunity of meeting Jordan at this time, as he is confident of winning, and a victory over Jordan will mean a chance at the championship which is now held by Mike Yokel. Jack has been in constant training for the past five weeks, part of the time under the direction of Tom Long, who has taught him many of the wrestling tricks of Farmer Burns and he assures his friends that his showing while in his present good form will be a big surprise to them.

HUSBAND IS IN JAIL WHILE WIFE IS DIVORCED

In Judge N. J. Harris' division of the district court this morning, a decree of divorce was granted to Mrs. Louise Van Dyke Turner against J. J. Turner on the grounds of failure to provide. Mrs. Turner testified that her husband had failed to provide the necessities of life for some time past.

Mr. Turner is being held in the county jail for forgery, he having been bound over by Municipal Judge W. H. Reeder in October on sixteen counts, the allegations being that he forged his wife's name to certain orders for money which she had in the Ogden Savings bank as a safety deposit.

The amount taken from the bank amounted to $4000 and was drawn by Turner in sums ranging from $50 to $1000 until the entire amount was exhausted. Mrs. Turner claimed that the signature to the orders for the money was a forgery and she demanded her money from the bank. Turner was arrested and taken to jail, soon after which Mrs. Turner commenced divorce proceedings.

No information has been filed against Turner and the district attorney, J. C. Davis, says he will not file a charge against the man as there is no evidence against him. He states that tomorrow he will file a statement with the district court explaining his position in the matter, which will likely be the means of having the man released.

The district attorney says that while Mrs. Turner claims the signature on the orders to be a forgery, yet she cannot testify in the case without Turner's consent and that the man refuses to permit her to go on the witness stand. On the other hand, the attorney says, the attorney for the bank has been employed to defend Turner and he states that the clerk of the bank, and the cashier, will testify that the signature is not a forgery which would make it impossible to get a conviction. He thinks the only thing to do is to drop the case and set aside the commitment issued by the municipal court.

CUSTER MASSACRE SUBJECT OF TALK

The assembly at the Weber academy yesterday morning was especially interesting, the chief address being made by President Thomas E. McKay of the Ogden stake.

The subject that he took was the life of General Custer and the events leading up to the Custer massacre. He brought out with particular force the fact that an error of judgment was the cause of that terrible event. This error was made, he said, on the part of the great Indian fighter, owing to his passion for military glory and that although he was brave, even to recklessness, that he would not recognize authority if he thought that there was any danger of losing any of his own glory by so doing.

Custer had, the speaker continued, been refused the leadership of the expedition because General Grant knew what kind of a man he was. He was, therefore, greatly disappointed and angry. When General Terry divided his men generously, giving Custer command of half of them and ordered him to ride 75 miles in two days, to catch the Indians on one side while he took the same time to reach them on the other side. Custer thought that his opportunity had come.

His supreme self assurance led him to say to his command as soon as they were on their way, "Men we'll win that battle and adjourn to the Big Horn river to fish and hunt, by the time Terry gets there. Under his orders the command consisting of 500 cavalry, the best of the army, made a forced march and without rest or food attacked the Indians, who numbered nearly 5000. It was a glorious charge, but against hopeless odds and though the fact of the bravery of the cavalrymen will live, the fact of Custer's disobeying his orders would always damn his memory.

And in this the application comes, that every man should stand behind his leader, even though the leader may be his inferior in ability. In particular the speaker wished to apply it to the school faculty in supporting the principal and to the students in the work of their organizations.

Other pleasing features of the meeting which reflected credit on both instructors and pupils, were the singing of the "Gondolier" by a girls' chorus, under the direction of Prof. Ballantyne and a piano duet by Masters Snedeker and Ridges and an instrumental quartet composed of Prof. Nichols and three of his children.

PROFESSORS ARE TO GIVE LECTURES ON EUGENICS

Superintendent John M. Mills of the city school, announces that arrangements have been made for a course of ten lectures on the subject of "Eugenics." The lectures are to be given by Professor Edward G. Titus, instructor in the zoology and entomology department of the State Agricultural college and an authority of the subject.

The course has been arranged, as stated by Mr. Mills, for the purpose of giving local club women, businessmen, parents and all persons who are interested in the subject an opportunity of learning more of it under a proficient instructor. He was aware, he said, of the wide local interest in the question, especially in the women's club and parents' classes, members of which have not found it possible to register for the regular extension work of the college and that Professor Titus will be in the city on Saturday to confer with him as to definite arrangements.

It is probable that the lectures will be given on Saturday evening of each week at 7 o'clock, at the high school. No admission charge will be made and all who are interested are invited to be present.
